So how healthy is your basket?

To encourage you to buy more HealthyFood while decreasing your spend on less healthier foods, Vitality has introduced the “How healthy is your basket” initiative.

The “How healthy is your basket” benefit is available to all Vitality members who have activated the HealthyFood benefit. Only the main member or spouse (if applicable) may activate the benefit.

When you activate the HealthyFood benefit, you agree that your transactional data may be transferred between Vitality, Pick n Pay and Woolworths, to record your HealthyFood purchases.

Each item in your basket can fall into one of three categories:

HealthyFood:

- Minimally processed or whole foods that are nutrient-dense, low in added sugar and/or sodium, and free from trans fats. When a variety of healthy foods are combined, they create a diet which promotes good health.

Unhealthy foods:

- Foods that are highly processed, high in added sugar, trans fats and/or salt (sodium). These are often energy-dense and nutrient-poor, and include sweets; chocolates; confectionary; drinks high in sugar (including fruit juice) and snacks high in salt. Unhealthy foods and drinks, if eaten in excess, can be harmful to your health.

Neutral foods:
“Neutral foods” still have a place in a healthy diet depending on the portion consumed, one's age, health status and exercise habits. You are not rewarded or penalised for choosing foods in this category, but are still encouraged to make a healthier choice.

Earn points

- You earn points based on the products in your basket.
- You will earn 20 points for every HealthyFood item purchased if you have activated the HealthyFood benefit, up to a maximum of 1 000 points a month.
- We will deduct 20 points for every unhealthy item in your basket.
- The least amount of points that you can earn is zero. You can never have a negative point amount in a month.

The products that qualify for cash back
